HOME STUDY SCHOOLS

A Note Regarding Home Study Traffic School Course Completion Certificates.
The court requires that home study programs transmit (and re-transmit, if necessary) course completion certificates via fax to the corresponding court location on the citation within eight (8) court business hours of successful completion of the course at no additional cost to the student. Any "expedited" certificate delivery service (i.e. "rush processing", "overnight processing", or similar service) offered by a school for delivery of the certificate to the court is optional and unnecessary. These services will not affect or impact your course completion.

It is the responsibility of each student to complete traffic school on-time and verify that the Court receives the course completion certificate. The Court requires the school to provide notification of course completion to each student at no additional cost. Keep a copy of this notification. Students should also check the status of their citation online at www.lasuperiorcourt.org no sooner than 7-10 business days from the date the student successfully completed the course.

For a list of approved Home Study Schools, including internet, go to www.lasuperiorcourt.org. Under the "Traffic" heading, click on "Traffic School Links" and scroll to the bottom to "What is Traffic School?" Booklet, Video and Mixed Media Home Study Schools are listed below

"They're jammin'. And they know you like jammin' too."

B. Amplifier Configuration

1. Four Amplifier Mode

In this mode each paging zone has its own amplifier and the function of the ZPI-4 is to switch the amplified paging or background music signal to the appropriate amplifier

Advantages: There is no amplifier power limitation, zones can be set to different volumes, background music is selectable per zone and the non-paged zones will continue to get music during a page.

To set the ZPI-4 up in the four amplifier mode:

Step 1.	Attach the ZONE 1 zone terminals to the input of the matching 70 Zone 1
Step 2.	If background music is to be inserted on this zone, ensure that the ZONE 1 audio inputs are in place. Jumping both pins. If not, inhibit the chime.
Step 3.	Repeat steps 1 and 2 for each of the remaining three zones
Step 4.	Attach the Individual jumpers across the common Paging Amp/ Audio terminals.
Step 5.	If a background Music source is being used, attach the Optional Background Music Amplifier connect as shown.
Step 6.	Set DIP switch 1 to OFF
Step 7	Inhibit master Amps connect zone output set together.

2. Two Amplifier Mode (Paging and Music)

In the two amplifier mode, one amp serves as the paging amplifier and the other as the background music amplifier. The paging or music mode is sent to the external amplifier returned and the amplified signal is combined by the ZPI-4 in the correct zone or zones

Advantages: Up to a 200 watt amplifier may be used when driving 70V speakers, only (2) amplifiers for one music amp) are required for 4 Zones, background music is selectable per Music, and the non-paged zones will continue to to get music during a page

Limitations: The paging amp mode to be limited to 200 watts and the music amp needs to be limited to 70 watts when switching 2 when speaker mode, each speaker zone is limited to. If more maximum transformer and the amp must have the ability to drive the speakers of all zones. (Example: 4 zones of 3 inside per zone equals a 2 ohm load during an all call.)

To set up the ZPI-4 in the two amplifier mode

Step 1	Attach the ZONE 1 zone terminals to the speakers(s) for Zone 1
Step 2.	If background music is to be inserted on the zone, ensure that the Music 1 music inputs are in place. Jumping both pins. If background audio is not desired, remove the shunts
Step 3.	Repeat steps 1 and 2 for each of the remaining three Zones
Step 4.	Attach the paging connect and the output connect as shown in the diagram.
Step 5.	Set DIP switch 1 to OFF

Fax over VoIP SUCKS!

When in the Course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes, and accordingly all experience hath shewn that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States.

To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world. He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained, and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his Invasions on the rights of the people.—[END OF PAGE

Download ISO files and disc images with any version of Windows and Microsoft Office (100% legal) digitalcitizen.life/easiest-way-legally-download-iso-images-windows-and-office

12/2/2017

If there's one thing we do not like, it is downloading disc images in the form of ISO or IMG files for Windows and Office. Microsoft has made it too difficult to download its software legally and you have to go through many hoops to download a disc image for Windows or Microsoft Office. Luckily, a developer has created a small free tool that assists you in downloading the disc image for any version of Windows or Microsoft Office you want, straight from Microsoft's servers. Here is how to find and use this tool:

NOTE. Please note that, in order to use the disc images that you are about to download, you will need a valid product key for the software that you are going to install.

First, download the Microsoft Windows and Office ISO Download Tool

Jan Krehn has a small personal blog on which he posted a free tool that he developed. It is called Microsoft Windows and Office ISO Download Tool or Windows ISO Downloader (depending on where you look) and you can download it from here. The file you download a small "Windows ISO Downloader.exe" that has around 1.5-2 MB in size. There is no spyware involved, no setup program, no nothing. We scanned it with three different antivirus products, and it was OK. You just run the file that you download.

The app is available in many languages, which you can see listed below. You can change the language of this tool from the Settings tab.

HEALTHY LIVING, DELIVERED 2010 - VOL 1

The Man Pon A Marine Avoids Further Explosions

The 2003 invasion of Iraq was one of the few times during the Global War on Terror that American Marines have lived in a long period of natural squalor. This was the period before the contracted DFAC (military dining facility) phone centers and laundry facility took a grip in the country. All throughout March and April of that year, the men of 1st Marine Division not only battled a retreating Iraqi Army, but they were living on the move with little food or rest. One MRE (Meal Ready to Eat) a day was the standard for the third Marines. The monotony of eating the processed meal was becoming overwhelming, and the destitute young men were becoming weak. Lucky for them, the war planners had one more mission for them at the end of the offensive.

The pacification of Tikrit would become 1st Marine Division's crowning achievement. Three light armored reconnaissance battalions were sent north in the war's final days to take Saddam Hussein's hometown. This mission completed the longest land invasion in the history of the United States Marine Corps and solidified US victory. Remember when our kick-ass President let everybody in the world know of our triumph when he arrived on the USS Abraham Lincoln via Navy 1 and proclaimed, "Mission Accomplished!"

The local population came out in droves to greet us, their great liberators. Dancing in the streets ensued, celebratory fire rang out, and Michael Jackson's "Beat it" drowned out the Muslim call to prayer. It was a celebration to end all.

My fellow Marines called me Chewy, after Chewbacca, the universe's favorite hairy sidekick. This name was given to me by my superiors after I showed up to the unit and was immediately questioned about my shaving practices. I gave my face as much Gillette attention as any other good Marine would, but my genetic predisposition to quick facial hair growth gave me the reputation of being someone who needed to constantly have my hygiene practices monitored. Once they realized it was just the way I was, the harassment over me shaving stopped, but the name stuck.

I had become just as caught up with the festivities as the local Iraqis after we took Tikrit. The leadership in my company was having an increasingly difficult time keeping the reins on myself and my comrades. When the elderly Iraqi woman came out of her home with a fresh plate of chicken, it was too much to resist.

"Can I mind if I do" was the first thing I said as I grabbed for the delicious looking bird.

This young PFC violently pushed my fellow warriors aside in order to taste the hot, sweet, coveted poultry. I gorged on chicken and guzzled chai as if it was beer at a frat party. I was satisfying the appetite that I had been yearning for a month now. The grease from the chicken dripped down my chin as I chewed and stuffed my baggy mouth. With my stomach full, and my hunger satisfied, I joined in with the other Marines in the second thing we longed for: sleep. When I climbed up into my armored vehicle I rolled happily into the driver's seat to take a long nap.

50 COMMON INTERVIEW Q&A August 15, 2006
Posted by Maureen in Interview Q & A trackback

Review these typical interview questions and think about how you would answer them. Read the questions listed; you will also find some strategy suggestions with it

(Excerpted from the book The Accelerated Job Search by Wayne D. Ford, Ph.D. published by The Management Advantage Inc.)

1 Tell me about yourself
The most often asked question in interviews. You need to have a short statement prepared in your mind. Be careful that it does not sound rehearsed. Limit it to work related items unless instructed otherwise. Talk about things you have done and jobs you have held that relate to the position you are interviewing for. Start with the item farthest back and work up to the present.

2 Why did you leave your last job?
Stay positive regardless of the circumstances. Never refer to a major problem with management and never speak ill of supervisors, co-workers or the organization. If you do, you will be the one looking bad. Keep smiling and talk about leaving for a positive reason such as an opportunity or a chance to do something special or other forward looking reasons.

3 What experience do you have in this field?
Speak about specifics that relate to the position you are applying for. If you do not have specific experience, get as close as you can.

4 Do you consider yourself successful?
You should always answer yes and briefly explain why. A good explanation is that you have set goals, and you have met some and are on track to achieve the others.

5 What do co-workers say about you?
Be prepared with a quote or two from co-workers. Either a specific statement or a paraphrase will work. Jill Clark, a co-worker at Smith Company, always said I was the hardest workers she had ever known. It is so powerful as Jill having said it at the interview herself.

6 What do you know about this organization?
This question is one reason to do some research on the organization before the interview. Find out where they have been and where they are going. What are the current issues and who are the major players?

7 What have you done to improve your knowledge in the last year?
Try to include improvement activities that relate to the job. A wide variety of activities can be mentioned as positive self improvement. Have some good ones handy to mention.

8 Are you applying for other jobs?
Be honest but do not spend a lot of time in this area. Keep the focus on this job and what you can do for this organization. Anything else is a distraction.

9 Why do you want to work for this organization?
This may take some thought and certainly should be based on the research you have done on the organization. Sincerity is extremely important here and will easily be sensed. Relate it to your long term career goals.

Fax something interesting toll free to 1-888-877-1655 or 1-503-200-1300

To the right are pages that folks have faxed us recently. Click any thumbnail to see the large version and rate it for interestingness.

You can fax something interesting to 1-888-877-1655 (your boss will never notice ... maybe) or 1-503-200-1300 (long distance to Portland, Oregon) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (It's a toll-free number if you're in the USA.) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single-page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

Privacy Policy: We hate spam and junk faxes, and will absolutely not send you any unsolicited e-mail or faxes. We won't share your information with marketers or anyone else.

Mary: Cletus, I will not answer a fool according to his folly... (to secretary) I fear for Cletus, because of the lifestyle he is living. Do you see these clothes he is wearing? He dares to walk into God's holy building dressed in such things. No tie, no suit, not even pleated pants. It is like throwing pearls before the swine! Oh, and the music he listens to... Tell her, Cletus. Tell her what kind of music you fill your mind with.

Cletus: I know she hates it, but I just can't get enough of that good ole' country music. And don't tell my wife, but when I'm feeling kinda classy, I like a little Hootie and the Blowfish.

Mary: Devil music! well, do you see now why we're here? This is no small matter

Secretary: Apparently. Well, how about if I ask you some of these questions... umm, let's see, there's one on here I think you'll like – yep, here it is... "What do you think God is like?"

Cletus: Well, I kinda picture him like one of those crazy basketball coaches I see on TV once in awhile when Mary's not home

Mary: She wasn't asking you, Cletus! She was asking me. Well, like I said, God is holy. He sits on His throne watching us. He rejoices over those that walk the straight and narrow but he gets angry with some and pours out punishment to bring a wayward child home

Scene shifts to Mary's view of God

God as a legalist king on His throne

Scene shifts back to psychiatrist's office

Secretary: Okay... well...umm ...oh! Lookie there! I think Mrs. Connelly just walked in, I'll send her right in. You guys just, uh, keep on working on that marriage and stuff.

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe's Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other files do not waste time and disk space downloading large application programs they may never use again, just to view documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating system. Unlike earlier electronic file formats, PDF files are platform, software, and version independent.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

CancerTYPE ID — Molecular Classification with CancerTYPE ID

FFPE Tissue Processing & Tumor Enrichment

- CancerTYPE ID requires as few as 300-500 viable tumor cells and is compatible with limited biopsy specimens such as FNAs, cytological specimens, and small core needle biopsies.
- CancerTYPE ID routinely employs laser guided microdissection to enrich for tumor specimen.

Gene Expression Profiling

- CancerTYPE ID uses a robust real-time RT-PCR platform to detect very small differences in gene expression.
- CancerTYPE ID measures and integrates the gene expression of 92 genes, 5 normalization genes and 87 lineage determinant and tissue-specific genes, most of which are not routinely measured by IHC.

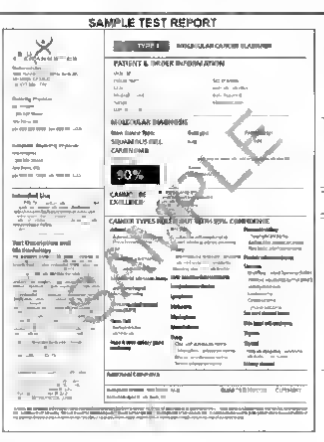
Reference Tumor Database & Algorithm

- CancerTYPE ID uses a computational algorithm to predict the patient's tumor type based on the degree of similarity of the sample's 92-gene expression profile to a reference database of gene expression profiles. The reference database contains gene expression information from over 2,000 tumor specimens of known histogenesis, and representing ~95% of all solid tumors based on incidence.
- The CancerTYPE ID algorithm provides a predicted main type and any sub-types in rank-order by relative probabilities, which are based on the tumor's gene expression similarity to tumors of these types in the reference database.

Molecular Classification

- CancerTYPE ID classifies 28 tumor types and 50 tumor subtypes.
- In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the molecular diagnosis was 87% accurate for main tumor type and 86% accurate for tumor subtype.

SAMPLE TEST REPORT



Interpreting CancerTYPE ID Test Results

MOLECULAR DIAGNOSIS

The [redacted] molecular diagnosis is the CancerTYPE ID prediction of certain tumor subtypes. It is reported probability (≥ 80%), the tumor is reported as "Indeterminate", in this case, the test report will also indicate tumor types that can be ruled out (see below) that cannot be excluded.

CAN NOT BE EXCLUDED

When applicable, tumor types on the CancerTYPE ID reference database that share some gene expression profile similarity to the patient's sample such that they cannot be excluded. Item diagnostic consideration will be listed here in rank order.

RULE OUTS

The CancerTYPE ID test report also lists tumor types that can all be ruled out with 95% confidence. In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the rule-outs were 95% accurate. This may provide useful differential diagnostic information when two or more potential tumor types are suspected and one or more tumors may be ruled out in the rule outs.

Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name,
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven
Give us this day our daily bread
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive them that trespass against us
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
[For thine is the kingdom,
the power, and the glory,

"This is my wish for you:
Comfort on difficult days,
smiles when sadness intrudes,
rainbows to follow the clouds,
laughter to kiss your lips,
sunsets to warm your heart,
hugs when spirits sag,
beauty for your eyes to see,
friendships to brighten your being,
faith so that you can believe,
confidence for when you doubt,
courage to know yourself,
patience to accept the truth,
Love to complete your life."

Facsimile

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

A facsimile (from Latin fac simile ('make alike'), a spelling that remained in currency until the late 19th century) is a copy or reproduction of an old book, manuscript, map, art print, or other item of historical value that is as true to the original source as possible. It differs from other forms of reproduction by attempting to replicate the source as accurately as possible in scale, color, condition, and other material qualities. For books and manuscripts, this also entails a complete copy of all pages; hence, an incomplete copy is a "partial facsimile". Facsimiles are sometimes used by scholars to research a source that they do not have access to otherwise, and by museums and archives for media preservation and conservation. Many are sold commercially, often accompanied by a volume of commentary. They may be produced in limited editions, typically of 500–2,000 copies, and cost the equivalent of a few thousand United States dollars.

Les Très Riches Heures du duc de Berry, a famous illuminated manuscript, is on view to both the public and to scholars only in the form of a high-quality facsimile

Facsimiles in the age of mechanical reproduction

Advances in the art of facsimile are closely related to advances in printmaking. Maps, for instance, were the focus of early explorations in making facsimiles, although these examples often lack the rigidity to the original source that is now expected.[1] An early example is the Abraham Ortelius map (1598).[1] Innovations during the 18th century, especially in the realms of lithography and aquatint, facilitated an explosion in the number of facsimiles of old master drawings that could be studied from afar.[2]

In the past, a technique such as the photostat, heatograph, or lithograph was usually used to create facsimiles. More recently, facsimiles have been made by the use of some form of photograph ic technique. For documents, a facsimile most often refers to document reproduction by a photocopy machine. In the digital age, an image scanner, a personal computer, and a desktop printer can be used to make a facsimile.

Light bulb terms

With so many light bulbs to choose from, you need to understand the terms on the packaging in order to narrow the options.

Watts: Standard units of measure in electricity. As a safety precaution, never exceed the maximum wattage recommended for your light fixture.

Lumens: Standard measure of light produced by a bulb. Standard 100-watt bulb produces about 1 600 lumens. As a general rule, the more lumens, the brighter the light.

Life: Estimated number of hours a bulb should last.

Incandescent: Bulb with a filament that glows when heated, producing light. Ordered in many colours (15 to 150 watts).

Fluorescent: Bulbs or tubes filled with mercury vapour that emits ultraviolet light when electricity is applied. A coating inside the bulb/tube turns the ultraviolet rays into visible light.

CFL: Acronym for compact fluorescent light bulb which is more energy efficient than conventional incandescent bulbs. It's also

A husband took his wife to the doctor.
"Oh, doctor" he said, "my wife thinks she's a chicken."
The doctor gasped. "That's terrible. How long has she been like that?"
The husband replied, "Three years."
The doctor was horrified. "Three years! Why didn't you bring her to me sooner?"
The husband said sheepishly, "Because we needed the eggs."

Every time the man next door headed toward Robinson's house, Robinson knew he was coming to borrow something. "He won't get away with it this time," muttered Robinson to his wife. "Watch this."
"Er, I wonder if you'd be using your power-saw this morning," the neighbor began.
"Gee, I'm awfully sorry," said Robinson with a smug look, "but the fact of the matter is, I'll be using it all day."
"In that case," said the neighbor, "you won't be using your golf clubs, mind if I borrow them?"

The manager of a large city zoo was drafting a letter to order a pair of animals. He sat at his computer and typed the following sentence: "I would like to place an order for two mongoosis, to be delivered at your earliest convenience."
He stared at the screen, focusing on that odd word "mongooses." Then he deleted the word and added another so that the sentence now read: "I would like to place an order for two mongeese, to be delivered at your earliest convenience."
Again he stared at the screen, this time focusing on the new word, which seemed just as odd as the original one. Finally, he deleted the whole sentence and started all over: "Everyone knows no fully stocked zoo should be without a mongoose," he typed. "Please send us two of them."

The Judge admonished the witness, "Do you understand that you have sworn to tell the truth?" "I do." "Do you understand what will happen if you are not truthful?" "Sure," said the witness. "My side will win."

A farmer was milking his cow

He was just starting to get a good rhythm going when a bug flew into the barn and started circling his head. Suddenly, the bug flew into the cow's ear. The farmer didn't think much about it, until the bug squirted out into his bucket.

It went in one ear and out the udder.

A young boy called the pastor of a local church and asked him to come by to pray for his mother, who was very ill with the flu. The pastor knew the family and was aware they were members of another church down the road. So the pastor asked, "Shouldn't you be asking Brother Simon at your church to come by to pray with your mom?"

The young boy replied, "Yeah, but we didn't want to take the chance that he might catch whatever it is that Mom has."

When I was invited to dinner with friends I took along a few pictures to show the hostess. She looked at the photos and commented, "These are very good! You must have a really good camera."

I didn't say anything but as I was leaving to go home I said, "That was a delicious meal! You must have some really good pots."

A man went on a ski trip and was knocked unconscious by the chair lift. He called his insurance company from the hospital but it refused to cover his injury.

"Why is the injury not covered?" he asked.

"You got hit in the head by a chair lift," the insurance rep said. "That makes you an idiot, and we consider that a pre- existing condition."

After capturing Kotkai, the South Waziristan stronghold of Taliban leader Baitullah Mehsud, in 2009, Pakistani troops destroyed training camps for suicide bombers, along with other facilities.

Ishi Mehsud, its commander, was replaced by an even fiercer commander, Hakimullah Mehsud, who unleashed a chain wave of deadly terrorist attacks across the country to avenge his comrade's death.

Over the past few years, thousands of Pakistan civilians and military personnel have been killed in terrorist attacks and in the fighting in the country's northwest. The TTP has launched suicide bombings and other attacks in Islamabad, Karachi, and Lahore, targeting crowded markets and other civilian targets as well as security installations. In a stunning strike in 2009, militants stormed the army's heavily guarded national headquarters in the city of Rawalpindi, killing several officers and holding off Pakistani troops for hours.

These events made it clear to knowledgeable Pakistani observers that their worst fears were being realized. Not only had the Taliban forged a new unity, but it was forming an increasingly well-coordinated web including Al Qaeda and outlawed militant groups such as Lashkar-e-Jhangvi and Harkat-ul-Mujahideen whose primary objectives in drive Indian forces from the disputed Himalayan border state of Jammu and Kashmir.

Despite the wave of U.S. drone attacks that have killed many of its leaders, Al Qaeda is gaining strength. A flood of recruits from Pakistan's well-educated urban middle class—young people, professionals, and retired military officers—have flocked to its stronghold in the tribal areas. This new generation of militants committed to global jihad, acts as a magnet for Muslim radicals from across the world. They are part of a new Al Qaeda that has taken root in Pakistan, one whose influence is no longer confined to the distant mountains. The port city of Karachi, a metropolis of 18 million people that is Pakistan's economic capital, has become a significant militant hub and source of funding. Thousands of madrassas in the city provide a steady stream of new recruits and suicide bombers.

The extremist and political roots of the spreading militant violence have been huge. By refusing to destabilize the country, Last January, Rahman Baseer, the governor of Punjab, Pakistan's most powerful province, was shot to death by a member of his security detail who

Mr Hansen

Thanks you for considering our proposal for the design of your landscaping in your new divisional headquarters We're pleased to submit this proposal herewith for the concept phase as agreed earlier

Since your available area is somewhat limited we suggest a modular layout This concept emphasizes space conservation and yet still provides for a modern, pleasing atmosphere

Enclosed are two floor plans The first one will allow you to keep your present furniture The second was designed with the intention that our new space-saving modules be used. Notice that the latter will provide for more spacious accommodations and/or room for additional personnel Also included are the specification sheets on these products

After you have had a chance to study our ideas, I would like to set up a meeting during October to discuss any further refinements. I will have my secretary make the arrangements. Please call me in the interim if you have any questions

- Dial the prefix (9) faxes during the number you wish to reach OR
- Configure "fax mode" on your line (see instructions below)

When you are ready to send a fax, follow the instructions for your particular fax machine

Receiving Faxes

If you've set up your fax scanner on a dedicated line, you're ready to receive faxes at all times.
If you have your phone and fax machine set up on the same line, you'll need to follow these steps to receive a fax

- Enable "fax mode" on your line (see instructions below)
- Configure your fax machine to auto-answer the next call

Once you'd done receiving your fax, turn off "fax mode" and turn off auto-answer on your fax machine to avoid having your fax machine pick up all incoming calls.

How do I enable "fax mode" on my device?

You can enable "fax mode" on your line by doing the following

1. Log into your My Ooma account
2. Navigate to Phone Numbers under the Preferences tab
3. Click on the phone number you wish to edit
4. Select the check-box to enable fax mode
5. Save your changes

Note: Please note that when you enable "fax mode" your phone calls will be sent and received using a slightly different packetizing algorithm. This may result in a reduction of quality in your voice calls. In order to avoid this, you may wish to ensure that you only enable "fax mode" when you are expecting to receive a fax

I followed the directions but my faxes still aren't working right. What can I do?

Faxing over Ooma is highly dependent on the quality of your Internet connection. Faxing technology was developed to work over regular phone lines, which do not experience the same amount of delay and data loss that Internet networks do (while Although it is possible to send and receive faxes with Ooma, we're always looking into new ways to improve the reliability with faxing with the Ooma system. In the mean time, ensuring that your setup is configured in the optimal way or your best way of successfully sending and receiving faxes. If you are having difficulties sending or receiving faxes, please try the following troubleshooting steps:

- Ensure that your Ooma network is hooked up directly to your modem, ahead of your router (Setup: Router A in your Quick Start Guide
- Disable "ECM" in a "Error Correction Mode") on your fax machine
- Decrease the transmission or baud rate
- Reduce the number of pages that are sent per fax
- Decrease the received image quality of the fax
- Disconnect any ways like doorbells (for receiving faxes) or cordless fax sending faxes)

Dear Human Resources

I hear that Page Marine Crews has a fantastic reputation for placing Canadians in shipboard positions. I am writing to apply for the position of a bartender or bar server

I believe my five years' of bartender and server experience and strong customer service background combined with my ability to work as a team player would make me the ideal candidate for the position

- Experience in a wide variety of bars, work as upscale hotels, sport pubs, chain restaurants, and night clubs.
- Increased cocktail and shooter sales with my bartending school experience as present staff were not as knowledgeable.
- Upselling everything from your domestic products to premiums.

I believe I have all the qualities of an employee that you are be striving for. I am honest, dependable, dedicated and incredibly outgoing. I have excellent communication and customer service skills, and am more that capable of leadership roles. I work well as an individual or on a team player and use to working in busy fast paced environments.

My good friend Courtney Hanley has previously worked on Carnival Cruise Lines and has that me that it was an amazing experience to work on any Cruise Ship as well as a great career opportunity. I am use to living in small areas, and travel for months at a time as I believe this would be a perfect fit for us both.

I would like to thank you for taking the time to consider me for any current or future position, and I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely

Mr Hansen

Thanks you for c[illegible] [illegible] landscaping in your new divisional headquarters We are pleased to [illegible] plans submitted herewith for the concept phase as agreed earlier

Since your available area is somewhat limited, we suggest a modular layout This concept emphasizes space conservation and yet still provides for a modern, pleasing atmosphere

Enclosed are two floor plans The first one will allow you to keep your present furniture The second was designed with the intention that our new space-saving modules be used Notice that the latter will provide for more spacious accommodations and/or room for additional personnel. Also included are the specification sheets on these products

After you have had a chance to study our ideas, I would like to set up a meeting during October to discuss any further refinements I will have my secretary make the arrangements Please call me in the interim if you have any questions

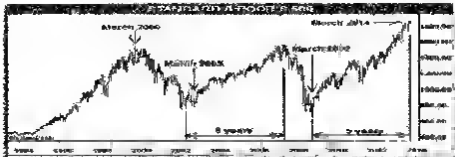
Test from Lending Solutions



Put the current bull market into context. Although today's bull market has been strong, it comes following the third worst bear market: a drop of 57% (compared to the bear-market average of 37%). The current bull market also took much longer to return to its previous peak: more than four years compared to a two-year average (and four-year lifespan) for all bull markets.

While no one can predict the future, prior bull markets that survived beyond their five year anniversaries went on to post much higher returns (Ritholtz, Mar. 2011 Bloomberg Finance L.P.)

Minimize risk in the bond market. While there is no possible way to eliminate all the risks that rising rates pose for bonds, here are some techniques that could help minimize your risk:

- Reduce the maturity of bond holdings
- Use some bonds with floating rates
- Use shorter-duration bonds
- Incorporate some callable bonds, which can be redeemed before their stated maturity

Bonds can still be a part of a diversified portfolio, but caution is probably a prudent strategy.

Focus on your own personal objectives. During confusing times it is always wise to revisit your personal time lines. Understanding your personal commitments and categorizing your investments into near term, short term and longer term time horizons can prove to be helpful. This is something we are skilled at and can provide help.

Don't try to predict the market. Ben Graham is considered the father of value investing, an investment approach he began teaching at Columbia Business School in 1928. One of his most well-known disciples legendary investor and billionaire Warren Buffet. Graham has often said "The individual investor should act consistently as an investor and not as a speculator." You are an investor, not someone who can predict the future. You should base your decisions on real facts and analysis rather than risky speculative forecasts.

Discuss any concerns with us. Our advice is not one-size-fits-all. We will always consider your feelings about risk and the markets and review your unique financial situation when making recommendations. For example, given today's stock and bond valuations and the expectation of many economists that interest rates will rise, "there's nothing wrong with pulling 10 percent off the table and sitting in cash," says James Stack, a market historian and editor of the Investech Research Newsletter.

Our goal is to provide guidance based on your situation. If you have any questions, please call our offices. Thank you again for allowing us to help you with your finances.

Dear Alumni, Faculty, Staff or Invited Guests,

The Department of Music at the University of San Diego announces a piano sale at Greene Music in San Diego.

The Department of Music participates in a Yamaha piano loaner program that allows pianos for practice and performance at no charge to us. All pianos will be sold at institutional prices that are not available in retail stores.

Pianos from the Department of Music have been gathered and transferred to Greene Music in San Diego where they will be sold at special institutional discounts rarely seen by the public.

The assembled and allocated pianos include new and used grands and verticals from the top brands in the industry including Yamaha, Bösendorfer, Steinway & Sons, Schimmel, Kawai, Knabe, Baldwin, Yamaha Disklavier player pianos, Yamaha Clavinova digital pianos, Yamaha Avant Grand hybrid pianos and others. The Department of Music is also releasing for sale some of our practice and performance pianos.

Pianos will be offered to recipients of this letter before offered to the general public. This is your first choice and best selection. All pianos have been professionally maintained. Greene Music will provide on-site financing including a special "Same as Cash Option", delivery, a follow-up technical service and warranty.

THERE ARE TWO WAYS TO ATTEND THE SALE.

1. For first choice and best selection before the public sale, a private appointment can be arranged for Thursday, Friday, or Saturday, September 14, 15 or 16 by calling 858-547-3636.

2. A public sale will be held on Sunday, September 17 from Noon until 5pm. If you need to attend Sunday, you will still receive better pricing.

The piano sale will benefit the Department of Music at the University of San Diego by supporting the loan program. If you are in the market now or will be in the future, we urge you to make an appointment now to take advantage of this incredible opportunity for you and your family.

Sincerely,

Christopher Adler, Chair

RITO DE BENDICIÓN DE UNA FAMILIA Y CASA

BENDICIÓN DEL HOGAR PARA TODOS LOS DIAS

Dios mío bendice mi casa, para que sea el hogar del amor y de la paz
Bendice la puerta abierta
como dos brazos extendidos que dan la buenvenida
Bendice las ventanas que dejan antrar el sol a raudales cada mañana y por donde se asoman las estrellas que son luces de esperanza
Bendice los muros que nos defienden del viento, del frio
y que son nuestros amigos en las horas que pasan
Bendice nuestra mesa y los sitios de trabajo para que nos ayudes y el lugar de reposo para que nos guardes
Bendice el techo que cobija los afanes de hoy y los sueños de mañana y que guarda para siempre entre los vivos la memoria sagrada de los que se han ido.
Bendice los sentimientos, las ternuras,
los anhelos que florecerán en nuestras vidas
Bendice nuestros pensamientos para que sean puros las palabras para que sean rectas, nuestros actos para que nos conduzcan hacia Ti.
Bendice nuestras horas de paz y de silencio
para que fortalezcamos juntos nuestro espíritu Bendice nuestros dolores y alegrías
porque son el corazón de la familia
Señor quédate con nosotros...
en tu morada.
en nuestre casa...

If the program does terminal interaction, make it output a short notice like this when it starts in an interactive mode:

```
<program>  Copyright (C) <year>  <name of author>
This program comes with ABSOLUTELY NO WARRANTY; for details type `show w'.
This is free software, and you are welcome to redistribute it under certain conditions; type `show c' for details.

The hypothetical commands `show w' and `show c' should show the appropriate parts of the General Public License. Of course, your program's commands might be different; for a GUI interface, you would use an "about box".

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the program, if necessary. For more information on this, and how to apply and follow the GNU GPL, see <http://www.gnu.org/licenses/>.

The GNU General Public License does not permit incorporating your program into proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. If this is what you want to do, use the GNU Lesser General Public License instead of this License. But first, please read <http://www.gnu.org/philosophy/why-not-lgpl.html>.

11.7. HP JetDirect Interface

The HP JetDirect Interface is one of the most widely used for network printers For this reason it also has the most widely known set of problems The user is strongly urged to upgrade to the latest version of firmware available for the unit Problems with older versions of firmware include system lockups that require powerup level resets

Newer versions of the HP JetDirect Interface have a Web Browser based configuration system After you have assigned an IP address to the printer you can connect to the configuration port and configure the printer using the browser If you run into configuration problems then you will most likely need to use the Microsoft Windows based JetDirect Configuration Software to reset or reconfigure the printer

Older HPJetDirect cards can be configured only through through the front panel or through a set of network files Here is a summary of the methods used from UNIX systems or to use when you are desperate to configure the printer

11.7.1. Resetting To Factory Defaults

Most internal HP JetDirect print servers can be reset to factory defaults (or cold reset) by turning the printer off and holding down the `online` or `go` button while turning the printer back on The printer control panel display should read `Cold Reset` `Restoring Factory Settings` or something similar

11.7.2. Setting Up IP Networking and Address

You can set the network address from the front panel Reset the printer put it in offline mode and then use the MENU +- SELECT keys as follows

MENU   -> MIO MENU (use MENU to display MIO MENU)
ITEM   -> CFG NETWORK=NO*
+      -> CFG NETWORK=YES
ENTER  -> CFG NETWORK=YES*
ITEM   -> TCP/IP=OFF* (use ITEM to display TCP/IP)
+      -> TCP/IP=ON ENTER  -> TCP/IP=ON*
ITEM   -> CFG TCP/IP=NO* (use ITEM to display TCP/IP)
+      -> CFG TCP/IP=YES
ENTER  -> CFG TCP/IP=YES*
ITEM   -> BOOTP=NO*
     (Enable BOOTP if you want to - see below)
ITEM   -> IP BYTE 1=0*
     This is IP address MSB byte;
     Use +- keys to change value, and then ENTER to change
     Use ITEM keys to get IP BYTE=2 3 4

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1 855-370-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine point your web browser to FaxZero. this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Section 1 - Lesson B

Guided Practice 1 B

1. Measure the rate of change of intensity of blue color as the Cu^{2+} increases in concentration.

2. (a) change in mass of Ag(s)
   Determine the rate of change of mass of Ag per unit time, since Ag is being produced.
   (b) mass of Cu(s)
   Determine the rate of decrease of mass of Cu, since Cu is being consumed

3. (a) $\text{Rate} = \dfrac{\text{mol Ag produced}}{t}$

   (b) $\text{Rate} = \dfrac{\text{mol Cu consumed}}{t}$

   (c) $\text{Rate} = \dfrac{\text{change in concentration of } Ag^+}{t}$

   (d) $\text{Rate} = \dfrac{\text{change in } [Cu^{2+}]}{t}$

4 1 1.2

5 (a) 1.0 mol gas

(b) $[H_2] = \dfrac{0.50 \text{ mol}}{2.0 \text{ mol}} = 0.25 \dfrac{\text{mol}}{L}$

$[Br_2] = \dfrac{0.50 \text{ mol}}{2.0 \text{ mol}} = 0.25 \dfrac{\text{mol}}{L}$

(c) 1.0 mol HBr

6 We start with 1.0 mol of gas and finish with 1.0 mol of gas. The number of moles of gas in the container doesn't change. (1 mark) Therefore, there will be no change in gas pressure as the reaction proceeds. (1 mark)

Hi!

Executive Summary

In many application domains today, especially in financial services, the number of clients, the depth of services provided, and the data volumes are all growing simultaneously. In parallel, middle-office analytics applications are moving towards near-real time processing. As a result, application workload is growing exponentially. One GigaSpaces customer is expecting to grow from 100K trades to 50 million trades—in only two years!

In order to understand the scalability problem, we must first define scalability: scalability is the ability to grow an application to meet growing demand, without changing the code, and without sacrificing the data affinity and service levels demanded by your users.

We identify two situations in which scalability is interrupted:

- A scalability crash barrier—occurs if your application as it is today cannot scale up without reducing data affinity or increasing latency to unacceptable levels.
- A marginal cost barrier—occurs when the cost of scaling your application progressively increases, until scaling further is not economically justifiable.

For most contemporary applications, particularly transactional applications in a low latency environment, these barriers are inevitable. But this is not the only possible case. Theoretically, an application can achieve linear scalability—the ability to grow as much as needed, at a fixed price per capacity unit—in which case it would never face scalability barriers.

Tier-Based Business-Critical Applications—Scalability Interrupted

Consider two typical business critical applications—front office applications and back/middle office analytics applications. It is clear that both types of applications do not have linear scalability, because scaling becomes progressively more difficult and expensive as the application grows.

Interestingly, these two very different business critical applications have striking similarities: they are both stateful, and both use a messaging tier for coordination, a data tier for storage of state information, and a business tier for the actual processing—in other words, they are both founded on the tier-based architecture.

More interesting still, both types of applications encounter similar scalability problems: cluster nodes get overloaded by inefficient clustering, different clustering modes for each tier cause unnecessary ping-pong inside the tiers, unknown scaling rates between system components cause unexpected bottlenecks when the system scales, growing messaging volumes might overload the processing components, the network becomes the bottleneck, inability to virtualize the tiers causes coordination problems, and different HA models for each tier makes it difficult to guarantee recovery from partial failure.

Each of these problems can cause a scalability crash barrier. To avoid hitting a crash barrier, application administrators are forced to apply temporary fixes—complex, resource-consuming coordination and clustering mechanisms—and scale up each tier just to accommodate the additional overhead. As the system scales, these fixes need to be applied again and again, making scalability progressively more expensive.

Form W-4 (2016)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. If too much tax is withheld, you will receive a refund; if too little is withheld, you will owe tax. Many taxpayers should also make estimated tax payments. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2016 expires February 16, 2017. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Notice to employee. If you are a dependent (or if you are subject to the backup withholding on interest and dividends only because you failed to report all your interest and dividends), you may not claim exemption from withholding for 2016 if your income exceeds $1,050 and includes more than $350 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends).

Exemption. An employee may claim exemption from withholding for 2016 if both of the following apply. For 2016, a child who can be claimed by another taxpayer as a dependent is subject to special rules. See Pub. 505 for details.

- For 2015, he or she had a right to a refund of all federal income tax withheld because he or she had no tax liability, and
- For 2016, he or she expects a refund of all federal income tax withheld because he or she expects to have no tax liability.

HD terms clear & simple to speak in HD. It comes in handy when you go shopping for your HDTV. Plus, before you know it, you'll even impress the geeks and techies!

TYPES OF DIGITAL TELEVISIONS

DTV (Digital Television) – Don't be fooled. DTV is not HDTV. DTV simply means a television that can pick up and project one of several digital signal types (SDTV, EDTV and HDTV) as opposed to the static-y analog signals of our past. And because the signal is digital, the picture is sharper and the sound is CD-quality. In fact, starting February 17th, over-the-air analog signals will no longer be broadcast in the United States. It's called the DTV Transition – and you can learn more at www.timewarnercable.com/dtv. Viva la digital revolution!

SDTV (Standard Definition Television) – Your basic digital TV set. The picture is sharper than the new defiant analog sets of yesteryear, but not even close to HDTV.

EDTV (Enhanced Definition Television) – The picture quality is better than SDTV, but not quite up to par with HDTV.

HDTV (High Definition Television) – Not to be confused with DTV (see above), HDTV is the crème de la crème of digital televisions. HDTV offers five times the picture quality and sharpness of analog television, a wider screen (more like the movies), and surround sound audio.

TYPES OF HDTVs

Integrated HD – Think of these as HDTVs with built in rabbit ears. Allowing you to watch broadcast HD programming right out of the box. If you can get reception. Much like old rabbit ears, reception is dependent on where you live.

HD Ready – This type of HDTV isn't produced anymore, but you still may find some lingering on shelves. Unlike an integrated HD set, HD-ready TVs don't have a built-in HD tuner. And no tuner means you can't pick up any HD channels broadcast over the airwaves. Which is essentially the only reason why they don't make them anymore.

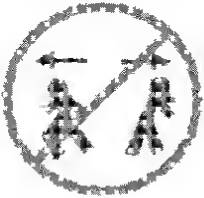
Zombie Emergency Procedure

In case of Zombie Apocalypse:

95% of all known zombies can be stopped by decapitation or destroying the brain. Aim your desperate, improvised weapons at the head and neck

DO NOT SPLIT UP!
Someone WILL get killed, turn into a zombie and the next person to see them will go "Oh, it's my friend, I'll just turn my back and OH GOD WHY IS HE EATING MY BRAIN?!"



DO NOT USE FIRE
The only thing worse than undead hordes trying to eat your brain is undead hordes trying to eat your brain WHILE ON FIRE

Ethics education is a key element in the curriculum for medical students. Little work has been done to determine how students in medical schools learn ethics, though. They may be learning by observing more senior students, physicians or others in the educational or clinical setting. It has been well documented that there is a decrease in empathy in medical students as they proceed through school. A concern is that there may also be a decrease in ethical attitudes at the same time. We do not know whether students learn more about ethics in the classroom or during their clinical rotations. We also do not test student learning of ethics in a significant way.

I will answer the questions, who are the heroes in medical education? That is, who are the people that medical students look to in order to frame their own behavior. Are the role models identified acting ethically and teaching and modeling ethical behavior?

I will interview doctors, teachers and students to learn from them what they think about medical ethics. I will ask the students how they learn ethics. I will assess the curriculum in a medical school to look for ethics coursework and compare that with what students report learning directly during clinical encounters.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR APPEAL RIGHTS

For more information about your appeal rights, call us or see your Evidence of Coverage.

There Are Two Kinds of Appeals You Can Request

Expedited (72 hours) - You can request an expedited (fast) appeal for cases that involve coverage. If you or your doctor believes that your health could be seriously harmed by waiting up to 7 days for a decision. If your request to expedite is granted, the Independent reviewer must make a decision no later than 72 hours after receiving your appeal.

- If the doctor who prescribed the drug(s) asks for an expedited appeal for you or supports you in asking for one, and the doctor indicates that waiting for 7 days could seriously harm your health, the independent reviewer will automatically expedite the appeal.
- If you ask for an expedited appeal without support from a doctor, the Independent reviewer will decide if your health requires an expedited appeal. If you do not get an expedited appeal, your appeal will be decided within 7 days.
- Your appeal will not be expedited if you've already received the drug you are appealing.

Standard (7 days) - You can request a standard appeal for a case that involves coverage or payment. The independent reviewer must give you a decision no later than 7 days after receiving your appeal.

What Do I Include with My Appeal?

You should include your name, address, Member ID number, the reasons for appealing, and any evidence you wish to attach. If your appeal relates to a decision by us to deny a drug that is not on our list of covered drugs (formulary), your prescribing physician must indicate that all the drugs on any tier of our formulary would not be as effective to treat your condition as the requested off-formulary drug or would harm your health.

How Do I Request an Appeal?

You or your appointed representative should mail your written appeal to the address below:

Language in Mexico

Spanish control of Mexico led to the commonness of Spanish, the official language. As many as 240 Native American languages are at least spoken in Mexico, but many are declining in use and only a few are widely spoken. Some of these languages, such as Nahuatl, Maya, and Zapotec, have official recognition in their communities. The Instituto Nacional de Lenguas Indígenas (National Institute of Indigenous Languages) promotes the use of these languages. Nahuatl is a primary language of more than one million Mexicans and is spoken by nearly one-fourth of all Native Americans in the country. Nahuatl is also the language used by 14 percent of Native Americans, and it is the most widely spoken indigenous language in the Native American area. No other indigenous language is spoken by more than five percent of Native American peoples.

Currency The currency of Mexico is known as the Peso.

1. DISPUTE RESOLUTION BY BINDING ARBITRATION.

1.a Summary of Arbitration Agreement. Please read this carefully. It affects your rights. Most customer concerns can be resolved quickly and to the customer's satisfaction by calling our customer service department at 1-800-331-0500. In the unlikely event that AT&T's customer service department is unable to resolve a complaint you may have to your satisfaction (or if AT&T has not been able to resolve a dispute it has with you after attempting to do so informally), we each agree to resolve those disputes through binding arbitration or small claims court instead of in courts of general jurisdiction. Arbitration is more informal than a lawsuit in court. Arbitration uses a neutral arbitrator instead of a judge or jury, allows for more limited discovery than in court, and is subject to very limited review by courts. Arbitrators can award the same damages and relief that a court can award. Any arbitration under this Agreement will take place on an individual basis; class arbitrations and class actions are not permitted. For any non-frivolous claim that does not exceed $75,000, AT&T will pay all costs of the arbitration. Moreover, if arbitration you are entitled to recover attorney's fees from AT&T to at least the same extent as you would be to court.

In addition, under certain circumstances (as explained below), AT&T will pay you more than the amount of the arbitrator's award and will pay your attorney (if any) or he or her reasonable attorney's fees if the arbitrator rewards you an amount that's greater than what AT&T has offered you to settle the dispute.

1.2 Arbitration Agreement.

(1) AT&T and you agree to arbitrate all disputes and claims between us. This agreement to arbitrate is intended to be broadly interpreted. It includes, but is not limited to:

- claims arising out of or relating to any aspect of the relationship between us, whether based in contract, tort, statute, fraud, misrepresentation or any other legal theory;
- claims that arose before this or any prior Agreement (including, but not limited to, claims relating to advertising);
- claims that are currently the subject of purported class action litigation in which you are not a member of a certified class; and
- claims that may arise after the termination of this Agreement.

References to "AT&T," "you," and "us" include our respective subsidiaries, affiliates, agents, employees, predecessors in interest, successors and assigns, as well as all authorized or unauthorized users or beneficiaries of services or devices under this or prior Agreements between us. Nothing in the foregoing is intended to, and does not, limit the applicability of this Agreement to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law. The only way a dispute will be treated as an individual action in small claims court. This arbitration agreement does not preclude you from bringing issues to the attention of federal, state or local agencies, including, for example, the Federal Communications Commission. Such agencies can, if the law allows, seek relief against us on your behalf. You agree that, by entering into this Agreement, you and AT&T are each waiving the right to a trial by jury or to participate in a class action. This Agreement is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. §§ 1-16 (the "FAA"), and the Federal Arbitration Act governs the interpretation and enforcement of this provision. This arbitration provision shall survive termination of this Agreement.

(2) A party who intends to seek a dispute on must first send to the other, by certified mail, a written notice of dispute ("Notice"). The Notice to AT&T should be addressed to: Office for Dispute Resolution, 1025 Lenox Park Blvd. Atlanta, GA 30319 ("Notice Address"). The Notice must: (i) describe the nature and basis of the claim or dispute; and (ii) set forth the specific relief sought ("Demand"). If AT&T and you do not reach an agreement to resolve the claim within 30 days after the Notice is received, you or AT&T may commence an arbitration proceeding. During the arbitration proceeding, any settlement offer made by AT&T or you shall not be disclosed to the arbitrator until after the arbitrator determines the amount, if any, to which you or AT&T is entitled. You may download or copy a form Notice and a form to initiate arbitration at att.com/arbitration-forms.

(3) After AT&T receives notice at the Notice Address that you have commenced arbitration, it will promptly reimburse you for your payment of the filing fee, unless your claim is for greater than $75,000. (The filing fee for your claim is $200 for claims under $10,000 but is subject to change by the arbitration provider. If you are unable to pay this fee, AT&T will pay it directly upon receiving a written request at the Notice Address.) The arbitration will be governed by the Consumer Arbitration Rules ("AAA Rules") of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), modified by this Agreement, and will be administered by the AAA. The AAA Rules are available online at adr.org, by calling the AAA at 1-800-778-7879, or by writing to the Notice Address. (You may obtain information that is intended for non-lawyers about the arbitration process at att.com/arbitration-information.) The arbitrator is bound by the terms of this Agreement. All issues are for the arbitrator to decide, except that issues relating to the scope and enforceability of the arbitration provision are for the court to decide. Unless AT&T and you agree otherwise, any arbitration hearings will take place in the county (or parish) of your billing address. If your claim is for $10,000 or less, we agree that you may choose whether the arbitration will be conducted solely on the basis of documents submitted to the arbitrator, through a telephonic hearing, or by an in-person hearing as established by the AAA Rules. If your claim exceeds $10,000, the right to a hearing will be determined by the

POS (Policy Owner Services) 800-807-2665

Revised 1/23/2017

The following guidelines are applicable for withholding, what wages are subject to withholding.

Withholding is required on

(a) Wages for services performed in the State. However, withholding is not required on such wages if all the following conditions are met.

The employee was established that the employee is a nonresident in the area explained in section 1.3.

— The employee is performing services in the State for an aggregate of 5 or more days, 60 days during the calendar year.

The employee is paid for the employee's services in the State from an office outside the State.

The employee's regular place of employment (where the employee normally performs services for the employee) is outside the State; and — The employee does not reasonably expect the employee to perform services in the State an aggregate of more than 60 days during the calendar year.

If all of the above conditions are met, except for the 60-day requirement, and if the Director of Taxation finds that the withholding requirement is a daily question or imposes a considerable enforcement, the Director may grant permission to an employer for exception from the withholding requirement.

Note that employers and employees who are exempt from the withholding provisions, may not be exempt from the Hawaii Income Tax Laws.

(b) Wages for services performed outside the State if:

The services are performed by an employee whose regular place of employment for services for the employer is in the State; or — The wages are paid out of an office in the State, or the field office of an employer whose headoffice is in the State.

Withholding is not required on the wages in paragraph (b) if the employee can show to the manner explained in Section 13, that he or she is a non resident.

Where an employee distributes products or provides services and receives compensation consisting of the difference between the selling price to the customer for the products or services, and the price the employee pays the employer, the amount constitutes wages and is subject to withholding. However, the amount classified by wages may show by a statement from the employee (which may list the fair retail value of such commodities or the charges employer used in performing the services), may be excluded from wages subject to withholding as provided by Section 1.... paragraph (g) of this booklet.

Generally, where wages are paid in amounts other than money, the employer should make necessary arrangements to receive from the required amount of withholding tax, as a part of the Department. However, in unreasonable cases is not subject to withholding. Refer to Section 13 paragraphs (q) and (r) of this booklet.

Withholding is required from certain wages not subject to federal withholding, such as wages for agricultural labour and domestic service. (See see Section 13 paragraph (e) of this booklet.

Vacation allowances and back pay including retroactive wage increases (but not amounts paid as liquidated damages) are subject to the withholding and taxed in ordinary wages.

Withholding is required on wages earned by no-residents of employees on a construction industry contractor performing work in Hawaii. The term "qualifying nonresident employee" does not include these employees. Although an employee can show in the manner explained in Section 13 that he or she is a nonresident, the employer cannot withhold income taxes on wages paid to nonresident employees on certain other industry or activities where the work is performed for a construction project located in Hawaii beginning September 20, 1988 and thereafter.

Voluntary withholding agreements may also be entered into between an employee and an employer or third party, such as for insurance premiums, to withhold State income taxes from an employee's sick pay. The same procedures prescribed for federal withholding may be followed. See also Section 11 regarding similar voluntary agreements between certain crew members and ship owners.

The following examples illustrate of an withholding is or is not required.

— Employee a resident of Oregon is engaged to teach in Hawaii for one month. Though he/she is a nonresident, withholding is required on Employee's wages.

— Employee a resident of Hawaii, is sent to the mainland for several months. Withholding is required on Employee's wages.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine point your web browser to FaxZero; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Entity Interaction

This section describes the interaction between SIP entities in various common session initiation scenarios

Session Establishment and Termination

Session Establishment

Call Flow

1. The calling User Agent Client sends an INVITE message to Bob's SIP address, sip:bob@acme.com. This message also contains an SDP packet describing the media capabilities of the calling terminal
2. The UAS receives the request and immediately responds with a 100-Trying response message.
3. The UAS starts "ringing" to inform Bob of the new call. Simultaneously a 180 (Ringing) message is sent to the UAC
4. The UAS sends a 182 (Queued) call status message to report that the call is behind two other calls in the queue.
5. The UAS sends a 182 (Queued) call status message to report that the call is behind one other call in the queue.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup uncooked Arborio rice
- 2 green bell peppers, halved and seeded
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 green onions, thinly sliced
- 1 teaspoon dried basil
- 1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 pinch ground black pepper
- 1 tomato, diced
- 1/2 cup crumbled feta cheese

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 400 degrees F (200 degrees C). Lightly grease a baking sheet.
2. In a medium saucepan, bring water to a boil. Stir in the rice. Reduce heat, cover, and simmer for 20 minutes. Remove from heat, and set aside.

- If a file contains a digital signature, make sure that the signature is valid. If it's not, don't open the file. To see the digital signature, click the Details link in the security dialog box. The Internet Explorer displays when you first download the file. The digital signature information tells you whether the file is valid or not. For more information, see [illegible]
- Be cautious of certain file types. Some file types are less safe, because they can carry viruses. The main file types to avoid are program files with extensions such as .exe, .bat, .com, or .pif. Often, a potentially dangerous file is disguised as a less risky file type, because it has two file name extensions, such as filename.txt.exe. This example might look like a text file, but it's actually an executable file.
- [illegible]
- When you download files, Windows usually saves them to the Downloads folder, which is located under your user name in the Users folder on the drive where Windows is installed (for example, C:\Users\your name\Downloads). When you are saving the file, you can choose to save it to a different folder. Some different types of files are saved to different folders by default. For example, if you right-click a picture on a webpage and then choose Save Picture As from the menu, the picture will be saved in the Pictures folder by default. If you're not sure where the file was saved, you can search for it from the Start menu.

1 [illegible]
2 Click the Tools button, and then click View downloads.

no 'view downloads' under 'tool button' in 'Internet Explorer'??????

Internet Explorer is running with add-ons turned off. While add-ons are disabled, you can click the Information bar to open Manage Add-ons, where you can choose which add-ons are enabled when Internet Explorer is restarted normally. To restart Internet Explorer with add-ons enabled, click the Start button, click All Programs, and then click Internet Explorer.

Daily Bible Reading

"For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not perish but may have eternal life.
"Indeed, God did not send the Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. Those who believe in him are not condemned, but those who do not believe are condemned already because they have not believed in the name of the only Son of God. And this is the judgment, that the light has come into the world, and people loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil. For all who do evil hate the light and do not come to the light, so that their deeds may not be exposed. 21 But those who do what is true come to the light, so that it may be clearly seen that their deeds have been done in God.

Pool Information: Swimming Pool Algae

There are over 21,000 species of algae known to man but only a fraction of these are encountered in our swimming pools. Algae does not cause illness. It is a plant that turns sunlight and carbon dioxide into food. It provides nutrients for bacteria which can then multiply rapidly (and may cause illness). Unchecked algae growth can turn the swimming pool cloudy or makes the pool water green and results in foul odors and tastes.

Prevention is better than cure Adequate levels of free chlorine will prevent algae from growing out of control. When algae growth is encountered it requires harsh treatment. Usually shock treatment with chlorine or an algaecide is recommended.

We will make an effort to satisfy (Quality Work). Thanks.

Art textbook with no art: school trying to fix it

Cory Doctorow at 1:00 pm - 3 Con n ents - Share

Earlie this week, I wrote about a custom textbook for a course in art history from pre i story to 1900 that had been assigned to students at the Ontario College of A t and Design at a price of $160 which was to be delivered without any artwork in it, thanks to a dispute over copyright clearances.

After an uproar from students and parents, the school met with students and is revisiting its decision to publish and require this book. Sarah Hulbolland from OCAD writes that Dean Shaller has sent an update letter to students this morning with some very good news as a result of her meeting with the publisher yesterday afternoon which followed the student forum discussion."

The clean s letter is on the school's website (PDF). Here's an excerpt:

> I met .ater in the afternoon with reps from Pearson including the President of the Higher Education Division of Pearson Canada Steve O Hearn – and from the L of T/OCADU Bookstore, as well as a number of other OCAD U faculty and staff. We laid out the concerns and asked for solutions. Pearson was highly responsive and proposed offering
> • Guaranteed end-of-term buy-back of the custom text (dollar amount to be announced next week), they want to take it out of circulation
>
> •Provision (free) of print copies of the Stalkstd text (which contains the vast majority of missing images) to all students who have purchased the reader to use as a print-based course reference these would be the relevant volumes of the portable version of Stalkstd (much easier to carry) –details on how this will roll out next week.
>
> For next semester (LEST 1Bo6) we will have two possible scenarios that we d l be to poll students on In any case there will be NO EMPTY BLOCKS OF WHITE SPACE And for future offerings (next year and beyond) we will wo l until March and further feedback from all of you before making any decisions. We'd Ike to present all this to interested students as soon as possible and are scheduling a second meeting for next Tuesday afternoon. If you cannot attend, please get in touch and let me know your thoughts.

Here's the notice of the follow-up meeting

(Thanks, Sarah)

NEW CAR DISCOUNT

ACCIDENT PREVENTION COURSE CREDIT

A credit applies to the Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability, Basic Personal Injury Protection, and Collision coverages of a vehicle if the principal operator of that vehicle has successfully completed an accident prevention course which is approved by the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles. The certificate of completion must be presented to us to receive the credit. The credit applies for a period of 36 months following completion of the course. To receive the credit at the end of this period, the driver must again complete the course and present the certificate of completion to us. The exact dollar amount of your credit will be shown on your Declaration page.

REFUND OF SURCHARGED PREMIUM

GEICO will refund or credit your policy when notified that a surcharge should be removed because of the following circumstances:

1. An accident falls under one of the exceptions previously listed; or
2. A conviction for a chargeable violation is reversed; or
3. A surcharge was levied through mistake, carelessness, misinformation or other error; or
4. A reserve was established but no claim was submitted for a period of three years after the date of the accident, or the statute of limitations has run out and no suit has been filed.

WAIVER OF SURCHARGE

The surcharge for an accident will be waived if all of the following are met:

1. The policyholder has been insured with the Company for five or more years;
2. The surchargeable accident occurred after coverage has been in effect for five or more years;
3. The driver of the loss was age 21 or older; and
4. There has been no other accident under the policy by a driver age 21 or older during the five year period ending 60 days prior to the loss date which either resulted in a surcharge or was waived under this rule.

CONSUMER REPORT NOTICE

We may obtain a consumer report for this policy and also in the future in connection with any policy renewals or reinstate

MULTI-TIER RATING PROGRAM DISCLOSURE NOTICE

Government Employees Insurance Company and GEICO General Insurance Company utilize a multi-tier rating program in New York. The term "multi-tier" simply means that there are several pricing levels depending on the characteristics of each individual policy.

Your policy declarations page shows the name of the company with which you are insured and the rating tier. Each policyholder is then qualified for her placement based upon the characteristics of the risk.

Depending on your rating tier, your rate may be higher than that of the New York Automobile Insurance Plan.

At GEICO we look forward to servicing your insurance needs for many years to come. If you have any questions, you may speak to any GEICO Insurance Counselor at 1-800-841-3000.

Hello world!

Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name,
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven
Give us this day our daily bread
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive them that trespass against us
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil
[For thine is the kingdom,
the power, and the glory,
for ever and ever]

For best results:

- In the lower paper cassette, load only plain paper or EPSON Bright White Paper.
- Load paper printable side down; it is usually whiter or brighter.
- Always load paper short edge first and make sure the edge guides are against the paper.

- Make sure the paper is loaded against the edge guide and not sticking out from the end of the cassette. The paper may slide forward slightly as you move the cassette. This is normal.

- Do not load paper with border holes in the cassettes.
- For instructions on loading envelopes, legal-size paper, or using the rear paper feed slot, see the online User's Guide.

Random Stuff Sent From Your Fax Machine
Fax something interesting toll free to 1-855-330-1239 or 1-213-294-2943

To the right are pages that folks have faxed us recently. Click any thumbnail to see the large version and rate it for interestingness.

You can fax something interesting to 1-855-330-1239 (its a toll free number if you're in the USA) or 1-213-294-2943 (long distance to Los Angeles, California) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes (your boss will never notice, maybe) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single-page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the big few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

Privacy Policy. We hate spam and junk faxes, and will absolutely not send you any unsolicited e mail or faxes. We won't share your information with marketers or anyone else.

A Closer Look

This is the third article in a series of articles about cancer survivorship. Look for the symbol on the left in an upcoming issue for the next article in the series.

Chemotherapy-Induced Peripheral Neuropathy

It usually starts in the hands and, or feet and creeps up the arms and legs. Sometimes it feels like a tingling or numbness. Other times it is more of a shooting and/or burning pain or sensitivity to temperature. It can include sharp, stabbing pain, and it can make it difficult to perform normal day-to-day tasks like, buttoning a shirt, sorting coins in a purse, or walking. An estimated 30 to 40 percent of cancer patients treated with chemotherapy experience these symptoms, a condition called chemotherapy-induced peripheral neuropathy (CIPN).

CIPN is one of the most common reasons that cancer patients stop their treatment early. (See sidebar for a list of drugs that can cause CIPN.) For some people, the symptoms can be mitigated by lowering the dose of chemotherapy or temporarily stopping it, while others endure the pain within a few weeks. But, for other patients, the symptoms last beyond their chemotherapy for months, years, or even indefinitely.

"Peripheral neuropathy can be an incredibly debilitating side effect," explained Dr. Ann O'Mara, head of NCI's Palliative Care Program in the Division of Cancer Prevention. "We can't predict who will come down with it or to what degree they will get it. So if we are a lot of questions around this issue, in terms of preventing and treating it."

Outside of clinical trials, CIPN symptoms are commonly managed in a manner similar to other types of nerve pain—that is, with a combination of physical therapy, complementary therapies such as massage and acupuncture, and medications that can include opioids, antidepressants, anti-epileptic drugs and opioids for severe pain. But these therapies have not been demonstrated to be efficacy for CIPN, and virtually all of the drugs to treat peripheral neuropathy carry side

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name,
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven
Give us this day our daily bread
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive them that trespass against us
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil
[For thine is the kingdom,
the power, and the glory,
for ever and ever]

Department of Consumer Affairs

Debt Collection• Money Judgments and Frozen Bank Accounts

Information for Consumers

Debt collection was the #1 complaint category for the Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) in 2009, with complaint volume increasing nearly 70% compared to 2007. Although DCA can mediate many of the complaints we receive, we cannot mediate issues that involve money judgments and frozen bank accounts. To help you protect yourself—and your money—DCA created this fact sheet, which includes where to turn when you need assistance.

Money Judgments

What is a money judgment?
If a person or company (known as the "creditor") sues you, claiming that you owe a certain amount of money, and the judge decides in the creditor's favor, the judge awards a "money judgment." The creditor has a right to try to collect that money from you or "satisfy the judgment. If a creditor has a money judgment against you, that creditor may try to take money directly from your bank account to pay off the debt.

If I have a money judgment against me, what happens to the money in my bank account?
One way a creditor can try to collect on a money judgment is to serve legal papers to the bank or credit union requiring it to restrain or "freeze" a consumer's bank account. This allows a creditor to take money directly from the account.

Can a creditor take all of my money to satisfy a money judgment?
In New York State, as of January 1, 2009, even if a creditor has a judgment against you, the creditor cannot take restrain, or freeze all of the money in your account—no matter how much you owe.

Exempt Funds

Under State and Federal law, certain money may never be taken by creditors to satisfy money judgments. (See "Are there exceptions to the Exempt Income Protection Act?) This money is considered exempt funds. You may choose to use exempt funds to pay a debt you owe, but a creditor cannot freeze or forcibly take these funds from you or your bank account to pay off a debt.

Exempt funds include the following:

- ✓ Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- ✓ Social Security retirement
- ✓ Social Security Disability (SSD)
- ✓ Public assistance (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, TANF)
- ✓ Income earned while receiving SSI or public assistance
- ✓ Disability benefits
- ✓ Workers' compensation benefits
- ✓ Veterans' benefits
- ✓ Unemployment benefits
- ✓ Spousal support, maintenance (alimony), or child support
- ✓ Railroad retirement
- ✓ Unemployment benefits

- ✓ Wages—Ninety percent (90%) of your wages earned during the past 60 days are exempt if you need them for basic needs such as shelter (rent or mortgage), food, and medicine. This means that if you earn $500 per week, up to $ 900 would be exempt. There is no account freeze if you need that money for critical expenses like rent or mortgage, food, or medicine.

- ✓ Most public or private pensions: Public or private pensions are usually exempt from collection.

Exempt Income Protection Act of 2008

Under a new law effective January 1, 2009—the Exempt Income Protection Act of 2008—some money held in bank accounts is protected to ensure that consumers have sufficient funds available to meet their basic needs, such as rent, food, and medicine.

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-888-377 1655 (a toll-free number in the United States). When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to FaxZay — it's a free web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name,
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven
Give us this day our daily bread
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive them that trespass against us
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil
[For thine is the kingdom,
the power, and the glory,
for ever and ever]
Amen

(1350 - 1429) to compute π to 16 decimal places. The accuracy of this computation was not surpassed until nearly 200 years later

Let a regular polygon be inscribed in a unit circle such that each side, a_n, subtends an arc $\alpha_n = 60°/ 2^{n-1}$ and let c_n be the chord of the supplement of this arc. Then, since $c_1 = \sqrt{3}$, the recursion relation makes it possible to calculate any desired c_n. Moreover, the Pythagorean relation gives

$$c_n = (2 + c_{n-1})^{1/2}$$

$$a_n = (2^2 - c_n^2)^{1/2},$$ and half of the perimeter, an approximation to π, is the product of the length of a side, a_n, times the number of sides, $\frac{1}{2} \cdot 3 \cdot 2^n$

(from "The Cambridge History of Iran" E. S. Kennedy)

The IRO will also provide its decision orally to you, and to other appropriate persons. The IRO decision will be provided in writing within 48 hours after the IRO receives the review request.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Coat a 12-cup muffin tin with vegetable oil spray; set aside. Whisk the flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt together in a medium bowl; set aside.

2. Using an electric mixer, beat the butter and sugar together at medium-high speed until light and fluffy, about 2 minutes. Add the eggs 1 at a time, beating well after each addition.

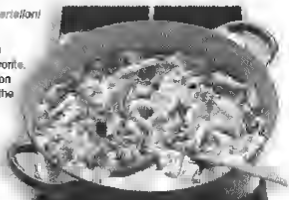
3. Reduce the mixer speed to medium-low and beat in half of the flour mixture, followed by one-third of the yogurt. Beat in half of the remaining flour mixture, followed by half of the remaining yogurt, then with the remaining flour mixture and yogurt. Use a spatula to fold in the blueberries with 1 tablespoon flour. Gently fold the floured blueberries into the finished batter. Portion the batter evenly into the prepared muffin tin.

4. TO STORE: Wrap the muffin tin tightly with plastic wrap sprayed with vegetable oil spray, and refrigerate for up to 24 hours or freeze for up to 1 month. (After the muffin batter is refrigerated or frozen, about 6 hours, the batter balls can be transferred to a zipper-lock bag to save space in the freezer.) Transfer the batter balls back to an oiled muffin tin before baking.)

5. TO SERVE: Adjust an oven rack to the lower-middle position, and heat the oven to 375 degrees. Unwrap the muffins and bake until golden brown, 25 to 30 minutes if refrigerated, or 35 to 40 minutes if frozen. Let the muffins cool in the pan 5 minutes before serving.

Go Green: Tomato-Free Tortelloni Minestrone

This minestrone recipe features spinach-and-ricotta tortelloni and various vegetables.



There is no type of minestrone I don't like, but a green minestrone — one unsullied by tomatoes — is my favorite. The recipe that follows is a remarkably low-effort version with a generous yield: a minor episode of chopping is the prelude to a warming and sustaining meal for many.

Reprinted with permission from Nightlessons: Easy Italian-Inspired Recipes

Servings: 8

Ingredients

3 tablespoons garlic-flavored oil leaves from a few sprigs of thyme, or 1 teaspoon dried thyme
3 cups frozen petits pois
2 leeks, halved lengthwise and thinly sliced
1 baking potato, peeled and finely diced
1 stalk celery, finely diced
2 large zucchini, half-peeled and finely diced
8 ounces green beans, trimmed and cut into short lengths
8 cups cold water
2 teaspoons kosher salt, or to taste
2 15-ounce cans cannellini or flageolet beans, drained and rinsed
1 pound fresh spinach-and-ricotta tortelloni leaves from a small bunch of basil
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan

Directions

Warm the oil in a large, heavy saucepan (that has a lid), stirring in the thyme.

Add the peas and turn them in the garlic-flavored oil, then tip in the prepared leeks, potato, celery, zucchini and green beans and stir in the heat of the pan.

Pour in the water, add the salt, put the lid on the pan and let come to a boil; then — you will have to keep an eye, or certainly an ear, on it to tell when — remove the lid and let everything bubble cheerfully for 10-15 minutes or until the vegetables — check the potato particularly — are tender. You could let the soup stand at this stage if I'm planning to press forward within an hour or so. I put the lid on to keep in the heat; otherwise it is better to let it cool swiftly before reheating.

Remove 3 ladlefuls of soup mixture, trying to scoop up more vegetables and less liquid, and purée into a blender (or a large bowl, if you're using an immersion blender) and set this aside.

Add the drained, rinsed cannellini or flageolet beans to the pan and bring back to a boil; then add the tortelloni and bring it all up to a boil again. Turn off the heat.

Add the basil and Parmesan to the reserved vegetables in your blender or bowl and whizz to a vibrant green purée; then scrape this back into the pan, stirring it into the soup. Let it stand for 10-15 minutes before eating.

History

Main article: History of the United Arab Emirates

An 18th century watchtower in Hatta

The earliest known human habitation in the UAE dated from 5500 BC. At this early stage there is proof of interaction with the outside world, particularly with civilizations to the north west in Mesopotamia. These contacts persisted and became wide-ranging, probably motivated by trade in copper from the Hajar Mountains, which commenced around 3000 BC.[14] Foreign trade – the recurring motif in the history of this strategic region, flourished also in later periods, facilitated by the domestication of the camel at the end of the second millennium BC.[15]

By the 1st century AD overland caravan traffic between Syria and cities in southern Iraq began. Also there was seaborne travel to the important port of Omana (present-day Umm al-Qaiwain) and then to India. These routes were an alternative to the Red Sea route used by the Romans.[16] Pearls had been exploited in the area for millennia but at this time the trade reached new heights. Seafaring was also a mainstay and major fairs were held at Dibba, bringing in merchants from as far as China.[17]

Advent of Islam

The arrival of envoys from the Islamic prophet Muhammad in 630 heralded the conversion of the region to Islam. After Muhammad' one of the major battles of the Ridda Wars was fought at Dibba resulting in the defeat of the non-Muslims and the triumph of Islam in the Arabian Peninsula.

In 637, Julfar (today Ra's al-Khaimah) was used as a staging post for the Islamic invasion of Sasanian Iran.[18] Over many centuries, Julfar became a wealthy port and pearling center from which dhows travelled throughout the Indian Ocean especially to neighboring land of Sindh and its cities of Thatta and Debal.

Portuguese control

See also: History of Oman and Economic history of Portugal

Portuguese expansion into the Indian Ocean in the early 16th century following Vasco da Gama's route of exploration saw them battle Safavid Persia up the coast of the Persian Gulf. The Portuguese controlled the area for 150 years, in which they conquered the inhabitants of the Arabian Peninsula.[citation needed] Vasco da Gama was helped by Ahmad Ibn Majid, a navigator and cartographer from Julfar, to find the spice route from Asia.[19][20]

Under British rule

During the 16th century, piecemeal the entire territory of the nation came under the direct influence of the European colonial empires, with the British eventually getting the upper hand. The region was known to the British as the "Pirate Coast", as raiders based there harassed the shipping industry despite both European and Arab navies patrolling the area from the 17th century into the 19th.[21] British expeditions to protect the Indian trade from raiders at Ras al-Khaimah led to campaigns against that headquarters and other harbours along the coast in 1819. The following year Britain and local rulers signed a treaty to combat piracy along the Gulf coast.

Standing AP x-ray of left knee taken on August 6, 2012. There is some joint space narrowing laterally. Osteophytes. Articulation and alignment is well maintained. There is no chondrocalcinosis.

Impression/Diagnosis:

836.0 TEAR, RADIAL, MENISCUS KNEE, LEFT

Plan:

The patient has improved. I have given him some exercises to do at home. The proper technique of using physical therapy was explained to him. I recommend that he continue with an exercise program that he will know will continue supervised therapy 2 times a week for the next 4 weeks or so. The patient was encouraged to do so. Surgery was discussed with the patient and he will continue with conservative measures. He will return in 4 weeks and he will continue with his exercises. We discussed the use of narcotic medication. He should review this with his primary doctor as refills will be given from him and he may require pain management to get off the medications. Ultimately he will have a total knee replacement on the left side. There is some involvement of the right knee. Currently there is an effective conservative treatment that he will continue. He will be given a note stating that he is unable to work for one week due to disability. I also discussed therapeutic injections. Follow up these as needed.

CancerTYPE ID — Molecular Classification with CancerTYPE ID

FFPE Tissue Processing & Tumor Enrichment

- CancerTYPE ID requires as few as 300-500 viable tumor cells and is compatible with limited biopsy specimens such as FNAs, cytological specimens, and small core needle biopsies.
- CancerTYPE ID routinely employs laser guided microdissection to enrich for tumor specimen.

Gene Expression Profiling

- CancerTYPE ID uses a robust real-time RT-PCR platform to detect very small differences in gene expression.
- CancerTYPE ID measures and integrates the gene expression of 92 genes, 5 normalization genes and 87 lineage determinant and tissue-specific genes, most of which are not routinely measured by IHC.

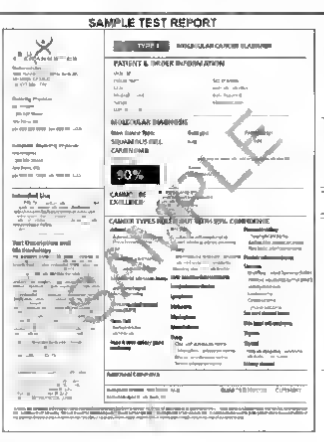
Reference Tumor Database & Algorithm

- CancerTYPE ID uses a computational algorithm to predict the patient's tumor type based on the degree of similarity of the sample's 92-gene expression profile to a reference database of gene expression profiles. The reference database contains gene expression information from over 2,000 tumor specimens of known histogenesis, and representing ~95% of all solid tumors based on incidence.
- The CancerTYPE ID algorithm provides a predicted main type and any sub-types in rank-order by relative probabilities, which are based on the tumor's gene expression similarity to tumors of these types in the reference database.

Molecular Classification

- CancerTYPE ID classifies 28 tumor types and 50 tumor subtypes.
- In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the molecular diagnosis was 87% accurate for main tumor type and 86% accurate for tumor subtype.

SAMPLE TEST REPORT



Interpreting CancerTYPE ID Test Results

MOLECULAR DIAGNOSIS

The [redacted] molecular diagnosis is the CancerTYPE ID prediction of certain tumor subtypes. It is reported probability (≥ 80%), the tumor is reported as "Indeterminate", in this case, the test report will also indicate tumor types that can be ruled out (see below) that cannot be excluded.

CAN NOT BE EXCLUDED

When applicable, tumor types on the CancerTYPE ID reference database that share some gene expression profile similarity to the patient's sample such that they cannot be excluded. Item diagnostic consideration will be listed here in rank order.

RULE OUTS

The CancerTYPE ID test report also lists tumor types that can all be ruled out with 95% confidence. In an independent validation of 2998 blinded samples, the rule-outs were 95% accurate. This may provide useful differential diagnostic information when two or more potential tumor types are suspected and one or more tumors may be ruled out in the rule outs.

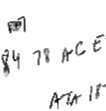

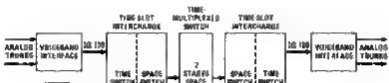

Fig. 5—No. 4 ESS time-division network topology semiconductor devices and on the characteristics of newly available solid-state memory units, another decision was made to operate the network at a rate of 128 time slots per PCM frame (125 μsec).

One of the early network topologies featured a combined concentrator, time switch and PCM codec. This was augmented with a three-stage space switch employing high speed logic gate switching elements. Such a network design, when concentrating 146 trunks on 128 time slots, was expected to be capable of handling about 72,000 trunks, each operating at 0.7 occupancy.

As development proceeded the need for a still larger network was recognized. It was also decided to separate the PCM codec and time switch functions to permit future digital signal processing (such as echo suppression) independent of switching. This led to the final network topology shown in Fig. 5. In this arrangement, the four-stage space switch functions are distributed in two separate frame types—a time multiplexed switch frame, and a time-slot interchange frame. The time-switch functions reside in the time-slot interchange frames, and the PCM functions are contained in a voiceband interface frame which performs a purely sequential encoding of 120 trunks onto a fixed format data link. This allows the PCM function to be located near the trunks, and provides a universal interface data link between transmission and switching frames—the DS-120 data link, which carries 120 trunks of PCM information on a 128 time-slot fixed-format signal. In addition, a direct digital switching interface is provided by digroup terminal units which multiplex five T1 digital carrier signals and connect (via a DS-120 link) to the switching frames in the same manner as the voiceband interface units. This network at maximum size, can terminate 107,000 trunks and service circuits, each operating at 0.9 occupancy.

Help Desk Log

The following is a real excerpt from Help Desk logs at a real corporation.

Hi good afternoon, this is Martha. I can't print. Every time I try it says, 'Can't find printer'. I've even lifted the printer and placed it in front of the monitor, but the computer still says he can't find it...

This is NOT a test — Just the FAX, ma'am! No trees were harmed in creating this FAX.

CHOOSE YOUR OWN ADVENTURE

TWO HOURS

Walk the Main Fort (see p. 5-8)

The Main Post is the "heart of the Presidio." This is where the military post was founded by Spain in 1776. Begin you visit at the Presidio Visitor Center (Thursday to Sunday 10 am to 4 pm, 105 Montgomery Street). Grab a map and get oriented to the park's history and beauty.

Take a stroll around the district to experience the Presidio's layered history and rich architecture. Grab a sandwich from a nearby cafe and enjoy a picnic on the seven-acre Main Parade Ground, which features views toward San Francisco Bay.

Across the street in the Montgomery Street Barracks, enjoy the Walt Disney Family Museum or a free exhibit at the Presidio Trust Headquarters. Then check out Andy Goldsworthy's Tree Fall exhibit on display in Building 35 (opens October 2013) or call (415) 561-5300 for hours.

FOUR HOURS

Hop Aboard the PresidiGo Shuttle (see p. 3)

The free PresidiGo Around the Park Shuttle offers an overview of the park's major districts on 30-minute loops. The Crissy Field Route showcases bay and Golden Gate Bridge views along the northern waterfront and provides a glimpse of the forest and historic Fort Scott. The Presidio Hills Route traces part of the Main Post on its way to inspiration Point, the Public Health Service District and the western bluffs near Baker Beach.

With these tours under your belt, pick one or two locations to return to by shuttle or trail.

ONE DAY

On the Trail (see p. 8-9)

The best way to experience the Presidio is on foot. The park offers a dozen major routes connecting all corners of the Presidio. Popular explorations include bay and bridge views along the Golden Gate Promenade, a peaceful journey through the forest along the Ecology Trail or Bay Area Ridge Trail, or a wild and rugged adventure on the California Coastal Trail. Pause for a break at one of the Presidio's eight scenic overlooks.

BUILDING DESIGN + CONSTRUCTION

reasons it g is troubling the minds of more and more interviewees and natural disasters) Th s is why International investors are considered to be the best prospect for increasing investment volume in 2015, according to the survey

6. A DARWINIAN MARKET KEEPS THE SQUEEZE ON COMPANIES

Competition is unrelenting and the need to have a clear "brand identity" is important as firms seek to navigate in the swift stream of capital. The recent spin off activities in the retail, office and hospitality real estate investment trust (REIT) sectors sound a theme that will echo as a trend in 2015. The drive for efficiency and effectiveness in both service delivery and cost will filter from investor expectations down to the service providers, the report states

7. A NEW 900-POUND GORILLA SWINGS INTO VIEW

Emerging Trends 2014 alerted readers to the establishment of the Defined Contribution Real Estate Council to help plan sponsors and their participants achieve better investment outcomes through the use of institutional quality real estate. With a combined $12.6 trillion in capital, individual retirement account (IRA) and defined contribution (DC) funds will be identifying and taking advantage of the benefits of having high-quality commercial property in a mixed-asset portfolio

8. INFRASTRUCTURE: TIME FOR THE UNITED STATES TO GET SERIOUS?

For all our vaunted technological innovations, the foundation of our commerce is eroding around us. It's not just bridges and roads – since 2009, spending on educational buildings and health care facilities (by both public and private sectors) is down by one third in real dollar terms.

9. HOUSING STEPS OFF THE ROLLER COASTER

Housing seems to be putting the excesses of the bubble and the ensuing collapse behind it. The trend in residential real estate, according to interviewees, looks to be returning to the classic principles of supply and demand. As this major segment of the economy returns to textbook fundamentals, confidence in the residential sector should continue to rise.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to FaxToy. It's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero. This site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Northern Residents Deductions

Do you qualify for the northern residents deductions?

To qualify for northern residents deductions, you must have lived in a permanent basis in a prescribed northern or prescribed intermediate zone for a continuous period of at least six consecutive months. This period can place or end in the year specified on the attached Form T2222.

There are two northern residents deductions.

- a residency deduction for having lived in a prescribed zone and
- a deduction for travel amounts you received from employment in a prescribed zone that was included in your income.

To find out the places located in the prescribed northern and prescribed intermediate zones, go to www.cra.gc.ca/northernresidents.

Qualifying limits – If you lived in a prescribed northern zone (Zone A) you can claim the full deductions. If you lived in a prescribed intermediate zone (Zone B) you can claim one-half of the deductions.

Deduction for individuals – A person who dies in the year qualifies if he or she lived in a prescribed claim for six months or more before the date of death.

Moving – Your period of residency is not affected if you moved from one place in a prescribed zone directly to another place in a prescribed zone.

Absences from a prescribed zone – If you lived in a prescribed zone on a permanent basis, absences from a prescribed zone do not usually affect your period of residency. If you lived in a prescribed zone for work-related reasons, while your principal place of residence was not in a prescribed zone), you may qualify for the deductions. For more information about special work sites, see Interpretation Bulletin IT-91, Employment at Special Work Sites or Remote Work Locations.

To determine if you lived in the prescribed zone on a permanent basis, we consider the location of your residence from the prescribed zone and the purpose and length of your absences.

If you have not lived in a prescribed zone for continuous periods of at least six consecutive months at the time you file your return, you do not yet qualify. File your return without making the claim. When you qualify you can ask us to period your return. To do so, follow the directions in the General Income Tax and Benefit Guide under the heading "After you file".

Step 1 – List your places of residence

Enter Zone A or Zone B in Step 1 of Form T2222 to indicate the zone where you lived. Also enter your address, your province or territory, and your period of residence.

Step 2 – Calculate your residency deduction (lines 1 to 12)

Complete the calculation in Step 2 of Form T2222 for the prescribed zone(s) you checked in Step 1. There are two parts to the residency deduction.

- Basic residency amount – You can claim this amount for the number of days in the year that you lived in a prescribed zone; and
- Additional residency amount – You can claim this amount for those days you used to calculate your basic residency amount if you maintained and lived in a dwelling in the prescribed zone during that time and you are the only person claiming the basic residency amount for living in that same dwelling for that period.

A dwelling means a self-contained domestic establishment. Generally, this is a complete and separate living unit with a kitchen, bathroom, sleeping facilities, and its own private access. It includes a house, apartment, mobile home or other similar place of residence in which a person usually sleeps and eats. It does not include a bunkhouse, boarding hotel room, or room in a boarding house.

We consider you to have maintained and lived in a dwelling, even if your employer let you live there rent-free and paid all the utility maintenance, and other costs related to the dwelling. Each person living in the dwelling can claim the basic residency amount as a residence in their return. However, if more than one person claims the basic residency amount for a particular period and dwelling, no one in that household can claim the residence residency amount for that period and dwelling.

If your principal place of residence is not in a prescribed zone, you may still qualify for all or a portion of the basic residency amount for living at a special work site provided that you are located in a prescribed zone and you lived at the site for at least six consecutive months. Reduce your residency amount by the amount of the non-taxable board and lodging benefits you received for working in a special work site that are shown in box 31 of your T4 slip, or in box 124 of you T4A slip. For more information about special work sites, see Interpretation Bulletin IT-91, Employment at Special Work Sites or Remote Work Locations.

If only one person in a household claims the basic residency amount for a particular period and dwelling, that person can also claim the residence residency amount. To claim the deduction that most benefits your household, you should determine the taxable benefit of all the members of your household when deciding which one of you will claim the residency deduction.

Complete the chart in Step 3 of Form T2222 to list the names and addresses of all individuals who lived with you in your residence during the period(s) indicated in Step 1 for the tax year and to calculate the residence to travel benefits.

The maximum residence you can claim for each eligible trip is the lowest of the following three amounts:

- the taxable travel benefits you received from your employer for the trip (Form T2222, Step 3 – Column 3);
- the total travel expenses paid for the trip (Form T2222, Step 3 – Column 4); or
- the cost of the lowest return airfare available at the time of the trip between the airport closest to your residence and the nearest designated city claim in Note 3 on the next page (Form T2222, Step 3 – Column 5).

Use the amounts from lines (A) and (B) on the claim to complete the calculation at lines 14 to 16.

You can claim the deduction for travel amounts for expenses you incurred to travel or the value of travel provided by your employer if you meet all of the following conditions.

- you qualify to claim northern residents deductions (read "Do you qualify for the northern resident deductions?");
- you are an employee dealing at arm's length with your employer; and
- you must have included in your income (in the same year you have the travel expenses) the taxable travel benefits that you received from your employment in a prescribed zone

The purpose of the DFC Program is to establish and strengthen collaboration to support the efforts of community coalitions working to prevent and reduce substance use among youth.

Mission:

The coalition must have as its principal mission the reduction of substance abuse which, at a minimum, includes the use and abuse of drugs in a comprehensive and long-term manner, with a primary focus on youth in the community. Program Focus

The coalition must have developed a Strategic/Action Plan to reduce substance use among youth which targets multiple drugs of abuse. Substances may include, but are not limited to: narcotics, depressants, stimulants, hallucinogens, inhalants, marijuana, alcohol, and Two substances must be identified. For example, alcohol and prescription drugs may be addressed.

For the purposes of this RFA, "youth" is defined as individuals 18 years of age and younger.

- Reduce substance use among youth and, over time, reduce substance abuse among adults by addressing the factors in a community that increase the risk of substance abuse and promoting the factors that minimize the risk of substance abuse.

The coalition must consist of one or more representatives from each of the following required 12 sectors:

- Youth (18 or younger)
- Parent
- Business

THE Praise PARADOX

ARE WE SMOTHERING KIDS IN KIND WORDS?

BY PO BRONSON AND ASHLEY MERRYMAN

Thomas (his middle name) is a fifth-grader at the highly competitive PS 334 the Anderson School on West 84th in New York City. Since Thomas could walk, he has constantly heard that he is smart. Not just from his parents but from any adult who has come in contact with this precocious child. When he applied to Anderson for kindergarten, his intelligence was statistically confirmed. The school is reserved for the top 1 percent of all applicants, and an IQ test is required. Thomas didn't just score in the top 1 percent. He scored in the top 1 percent of the top 1 percent.

But as Thomas has progressed through school, this self-awareness that he's smart hasn't always translated into fearless confidence when attacking his schoolwork. In fact, Thomas's father noticed just the opposite. "Thomas didn't want to try things he wouldn't be successful at," his father says. "Some things came very quickly to him, but when they didn't, he gave up almost immediately concluding, 'I'm not good at this.'" With no more than a glance, Thomas was dividing the world into two—things he was naturally good at and things he wasn't.

For instance, in the early grades, Thomas wasn't very good at spelling, so he simply demurred from spelling out loud. When Thomas took his first look at fractions, he balked. The biggest hurdle came in third grade. He was supposed to learn cursive penmanship, but he wouldn't even try for weeks. By then, his teacher was demanding homework be completed in cursive. Rather than play catch-up on his penmanship, Thomas refused outright. Thomas's father tried to reason with him. "Look, just because you're smart doesn't mean you don't have to put out some effort." (Eventually Thomas mastered cursive, but not without a lot of cajoling from his father.)

Why does this child, who is measurably at the very top of the charts, lack confidence about his ability to tackle routine school challenges?

1 The Moon's surface is best described as fine-grained powder (s) or regolith.

4 Earth is weathering and tectonic activity routinely reshapes the land, destroying the evidence of past craters. The Moon haven't have this tectonic activity or weather so once a crater is made it stays there for a very long time.

15. With a small telescope, you can see craters and mare on the moon.

17 The upper crust formed more recently than the lunar highlands, so they haven't had as much time to become cratered

2.1 A tidal force is an effect of the force of gravity occurring because gravity affects the near side of an object more than the far side. Tidal forces between the Earth and Moon create ocean tides because the Moon pulls on the water, creating a bulge, resulting in a higher water level in some areas, and a lower water level in others.

22. Spring tides are more dramatic tides that occur at new or full Moons, when the gravitational forces of the Sun and Moon are combined. Neap tides are less dramatic tides that occur at first and third quarter Moons when the gravitational forces of the Sun and Moon cancel each other out to a degree.

23. The collision-ejection theory aligns with many observations we have made of the Moon, including the density of the rocky surface, which would have been caused by evaporation from the heat of the impact. The collisions may also be responsible for Earth's axial tilt, giving us seasons.

24. Most lunar craters are circular due to the extremely high speed of the impacting meteoroids. These collisions are like explosions that eject material in all directions.

26. Convection currents in the magma of Earth's interior churn and renew the tectonic plates above.

28. The boundaries of tectonic plates are some where magma has a path to travel up through the crust to the surface of the Earth.

9 Choose the correct Receive Mode

The correct Receive Mode is determined by the external devices and telephone subscriber services (if any) that you have on the same telephone line as your Brother machine. For details, see Using Receive Modes in chapter 6 of the Basic User's Guide.

Will you be using a Distinctive Ring number for receiving faxes?

Distinctive Ring is a telephone company feature that lets you have several telephone numbers on the same line. Each number has a different ring pattern. You assign specific ring patterns to answer both voice and fax calls. See Using Distinctive Ring in chapter 4 of the Basic User's Guide for information on setting up Distinctive Ring and for more information.

Will you be using Voicemail on the same telephone line as your Brother machine?

If you have Voice Mail on the same telephone line as your Brother machine, then it is almost certainly that Voice Mail is the first device connected to the line when receiving incoming calls. See Using Voice Mail in chapter 4 of the Basic User's Guide for information on setting up your machine using the service.

Will you be using a Telephone Answering Device on the same telephone line as your Brother machine?

Your external telephone answering device (TAD) or external phone can share one telephone line with your machine. Incoming calls can be answered by your machine, by your TAD, or by your external phone. See the illustrations below. For additional details, see Connecting an External TAD (telephone answering device) in chapter 6 of the Basic User's Guide.

Will you be using your Brother machine in a dedicated fax line?

Choose this if you have a dedicated line for fax calls. Choose this if you never receive voice calls. See the illustrations below.

Will you be using your Brother machine on the same line as your telephone?

Do you want to receive voice calls and faxes automatically?

The Fax only Receive mode is used if a dedicated Brother machine is all your line needs or if the same line has Distinctive Ring. Choose the Fax/Tel receive mode. See the illustrations below. For additional details, see Using Receive Modes in chapter 6 of the Basic User's Guide for how to use the Fax/Tel receive mode.

Important Note: You must also change the Ring Delay setting of your machine when changing the Receive Mode, which is done in the Fax/Tel mode.

Do you expect to receive very few faxes?

Choose this if you receive few faxes. You control the phone line and must answer every call yourself. See the illustration below.
